“It’s ALL About the Cats”

Laurie

Did You Know..??..

- Clay cat litter came about by accident. In 1948 a neighbor by the name of Kay Draper went into her local sawmill to pick up some sawdust for her cat's litter tray. She had been using ash, but was fed up with it being tracked all over her house. Ed Lowe, the son of the owner offered her some clay, known as Fullers Earth, which was used to absorb grease. Ed realized he was onto something, and started marketing the product in pet shops & at cat shows. It took a while to take off, but eventually it became a multi-million dollar business.
- Sir Isaac Newton invented the cat flap.
- An ailurophile is a person who loves cats. The word ailuro is from the ancient Greek word for "cat".
- More cats are left handed than right handed. Out of every 100 cats approximately 40 are left-pawed, 20 are right-pawed, and 40 are ambidextrous.
- The ridged pattern on a cat's nosepad is as individual as a human fingerprint.
